Let Victory Mounds Help You Start and Grow Your Hitting Facility

Baseball and softball have become year-round sports and not just in warmer weather climates. Across the country, indoor hitting and instructional facilities are being built in cold weather states as well to help players stay sharp in the off season and improve their game.

Typically, a batting facility franchise charges you a fee (often a huge fee) just for the right to purchase their products and equipment. Then, they dictate your name, your environment and your attitude. Victory Mounds shows you how to open a batting facility from start to finish, but without the franchise fee, royalties, and restrictions on what is, after all, your business! Our Victory Mounds facility consulting service is an affordable and flexible alternative to a batting facility franchise. So, if you are looking to start an indoor facility, talk to Victory Mounds. From small spaces to large, we can help you throughout the process with a personalized approach tailored to your unique needs and budget.
